HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Friday, March 14, 1862. }
My Dear Sir: A brief parenthesis in the midst of pressing duties enables me to send you a line of acknowledgment for yours, which I received yesterday, at Fairfax Courthouse. We arrived there on Monday, and the next day went on to Manassas Junotion. The whole country is deserted by white and black. The Junction was still smoking with the parting confiagration of the rebels, their last division having left the day before our arrival. We found the usual monuments of rebel oivilization and presence—houseless chimneys, rising from smouldering ruins. Provisions and forage, clothing and camp equipage, were recklessly scattered round in burning heaps, showing the hot haste and terrible panie in which the traitors had departed.

The entire state of Virginia is surrendered to the Rappahannock, and we have thus obtained all the fruits of a great viotory, without the loss of a single life. Thoss who think that war consists only in fighting, and producing individual suffering and misery instead of military results, will of course rave and denonnoo as usual. Those who have read history and understand it will think otherwise. Marlborough had ten campaigns and fought but five pitched battles, and with comparatively limited results; while bicClellan's winter campaign has extended the flag of the United States over 150,000 miles of territory lately held by the traitors. The wise, intelligent, and humane, who know that the Union can be restored only by the least exasperation and alienation, will appland the commander who achieves for his country great ends by peaceful means. We might, it is true, have fought a great battle at Centerville, and possibly have wonit. But the place is very extend for miles around it, can scoommodate 100,000 men. We might thus have mannfaothred thousands of widows and orphans in defeating the enemy, with source-ly a possibility of capturing any considerable portion of them, they having two rail-roads in the rear by which to retreat, while the effect upon the termination of the war would have been no more decisive than that now achieved by strategy. The rebels have lost all the resources of one-third of Eastern Virginia by our bloodless viotory, and failed to gain anything by their san-guinary success at Bull Run. The malignant blookheads who pour their mendacious slanders upon McClellan through the appropriate funnel of the Tribune, cannot comprehend the conduct of a war except through channels of blood, nor judge of its effects except as seen and heard in the cries and lamentations of broken-hearted women and children. Let them rail on. Thus far McClellan's strategy has been eminently successful, and has exemplified and illustrated the highest qualities of a commander. Yours truly, &c. Iron-Clad Ships. A NEW PLAN PROPOSED [From the New York Fvening Post.]

Mr. William N. Van Wagenen, of Newark, has shown us a model of an entirely new plan of a shot proof hull, and iron fort deck, for an armored gunboat. This plan is fitted not only for a gunboat, but also for a marine ram. The model seems to us to present some valuable improvements, which it would be worth while for the Navy Department and onr naval con-Mr. Van Wagenen proposes an iron-clad boat, entirely shot-proof, thoroughly staunch and seaworthy, with a stationary iron fort, within which shall revolve on a turn-table three or four of the heaviest can. non made. The peculiarity of the form of outer edge, which is sharp, and in practice would be of solid oak, ten feet through, armed on the outside with a band of eightinch iron. The deck slants upward at an angle of about ten degrees, is sufficiently pro-teoted by two-inch and inch iron plates, and it is impossible to fire a shot straight at it. Everything which hits must glance off. The bow and stern are of solid oak for twenty to twenty-five feet, and as the ship has no out-water, the charp, angular prow makee an excellent ram. The water-line of the vessel is a little below the sharp edge, and the bottom is therefore armored from one to two feet down. The stern projects far beyond the rudder and propellor, and gives important protection to these vital parts, which are altogether submerged and out of reach of shot. The tower or fort Mr. Van Wagenen purposes to fasten to the guns revolve within, and present themselves aconrately to anmerous portholes made in the tower. This he proposes to make of fifteen layers of inch boller plates, laid over each other in a very ingenione way.

He proposes the following dimensions for sea going and perfectly sea-worthy ironolad boat, which will show the novel proportions he brings into use. The hall to be two hundred feet long, sixty-five feet extreme beam, tapering to a sharp point at and stern. Ship-builders will see some novel advantages in her form. The ribs and dock beams are nearly alike in shape, and soarcely any orooked timber need used in the construction. The tower is to be forty feet in outside diameter, thirtyseven inside, eight feet high on the outward edges, five feet high amidships. It sets in the vessel, instead of on its deck. She is to be moved by one propeller, and her lines easily. She will be of very light draught, as is evident from her shape, and would draw about ten feet when in running trim. The cost of a vessel of the dimension

Last Thursday, when our informant left Memphie, the people there were predipitately hurrying into the interior. All cans of railroad and steamboat transportation not monopolized by the Confederate government had been invoked to remove cotton, sngar, molasses, and all kinds of merchant stores from the city. The citizens are represented as being terror stricken, and daily expecting our fleet to confront them. They had some hope, before the taking of New Madrid, that their defenses at Island No. 10 would hold us at bay, but since that and their ineffectual attempt to remove the blookthree hoop skirts from L. Lawine; contin- ade established by General Pope, they have no confidence in their ability to withstand iong our assault upon them at the Island. This place surrounded, they could not rely with any faith upon their defenses at Fort Pillow, and a few days after their defeat at New Madrid evacuated it, leaving a greater part of their ordinance in the river. General Beanregard was at Jackson las for the purpose of taking General Johnson's command from Decator to Corinth. From all the redexyous in the western portion of the Confederacy troops were being with-drawn and concentrated at Corinth, where, ite military chieftain, they expected to turn back the tide of Federal soldiers that swept them from Kentucky to Tennessee. XXXVIIth Congress-First Session. Washington, March 27.— Senate — As large numbers of them had been taken South, the people in that State had lost property equal in value to the whole amount of her elaves at the commencement of the war. He regarded the present not as a trial, but as a prophecy which he felt would be A very Large and Complete Asfulfilled everywhere, if the war continued.
He was perfectly willing that the proposiranted Fresh and True to Name.

Mr. Pieroe, from the Committee on Finance, reported a bill to allow arms ordered by States to aid the suppression of the rebelilon to come free of duty.
On motion of Mr. Fesseuden, the naval appropriation bili was takeu up.

A long discussion ensued on the comple-tion of the Stevens battery. No action was The Senate went into executive session, and subsequently adjourned.

House-The House in Committee of the Whole on the State of the Uniou resumed the consideration of the tax bill. Mr. Sheffield offered an ameudment that upon all sales of goods, wares, merchaudise and other property and estates, which shall be used for consumption or for investment, lucluding exchanges of property, excluding jobbers or middle men, a tax of one per cent. on the amount of such sales.

After discussion, the amendment was temporarily withdrawn. Further debate followed. An amendment was adopted taxing candles of any material, valued at not over 15 ceuts per pound, 1 o per pound; be-tween 15 and 20 cents, 1 cent per pound, and above 20 cents, 12 cents per pound. An amendment was adopted taxing anthracite coal 15 cents per ton, and bituminous 3 cent per bushel. Adopted, with the proviso that it was not to go into effect until the termination of the reciprocity treaty. An amend meut providing for a tax on ootton of 1 cent per pound. after the first of May, was rejeoted. An amendment was adopted exempting from duty coal oil, also parafine, whale and fish oils. The tax ou burning fluid was stricken out.

Adjourned. WASHINGTON, March 27 .- The Senate today confirmed the nomination of Lewis S. Ely, of California, as Consul at Acapules. The bill reported by Senator Pearce to-day, from the Committee on Finance, provide that the authority given to the Secretary of A LARGE AND DESIRABLE LOT OF SECOND. the Treasury to refund and remit the duties HAND FURNITURE AND HOUSEKEEPING AR. on imports of all arms imported into the United States by or for the account of any shall have satisfactory proof exhibited to stands, Italian, Franch and Min-ser Meditadad, Longed Etagore, Sc. will find them effectival for clearing and strengthening the voice.

We can concur heartily in the many commendations of the "BRONCHIAL TROCHES," prepared by the Meesrs. Brown. At the very time they were brought to our notice, we were suffering from a severe cold, from which we obtained immediate and permanent relief by the use of the TROCHES. If any of our readers are suffering from bronchial tritation, particularly ministers or public speakers, they will find that this simple remoty will bring almost magical relief, and enable them to speak with little difficulty or suffering.—Boston Christian William and Reflector.

M. E. REEVES,

GEO. MENDENHALL. | Supplies. THE CENSORSHIP OF THE PRESS.—The report STEEL PLOWS. of the Judiciary Committee on the censorship of the telegrams to the press, is so manifestly partial that it will probably be made the subject of inquiry. Some of the most important evidence given before the committee is not even alluded to in the report. The origin of the investigation was the exclusion of the New York Tribune from special favors it had enjoyed in being exempted from the operation of the censorship. In the course of the testimony the following note to the Censor, from Gen. Cameron, then Secretary of War, was produced:

"WAR DEPARTMENT, Oct. 5, 1861. "MY DEAR SIR:-It is my wish that you neither suppress nor alter the telegrams of Mr. Samuel Wilkeson. Please send them as they are written and signed by him. "Respectfully, SIMON CAMEBON.

At the time the Tribune was thus specially against all the rest of the press of the whole country, the Censor was under the control of the War Department. That control was subsequently transferred to the State of the war department. subsequently transferred to the State Department, but the Secretary of State declined to revoke the anthority given to Mr. Wilkeson by the Secretary of War until the premature publication in the Tribune of a garbled statement, purporting to be the official report of Gen. Stone, upon the Ball's Bluff disaster. The special license of the Tribune was then revoked and its correspondence subjected to the same regulations imposed upon that of other journals. Then began the warfare upon the Censor and the had confidently recommend Mr. Worthington to more than the warfare upon the Censor and the brother officers and soluters in Kentucky and elsewher imposed upon that of other journals. Then State Department, which has culminated in a report that suppresses the most important facts developed before the committee. In order to strike at the Secretary of State they denounce the Censer. The prostituthey denounce the Censer. The prostitute BOOTS AND SHOES, House of Representatives to such uses is very severely condemned, and many of the members believe it demands a searching in-Wash. special to N Y. Herald, 23d.

THE UNITED STATES ARMY AND FUGITIVE SLAVES .- We have heard it stated repeatedly that a considerable number of fugitive slaves are following the United States army on its march South through this State. These negroes, we presume, have generally absounded, believing that they would be protected by the army, and, if not immediately, ultimately be freed. The action of the army leaders on this subject is of vast importance to the owners of slaves, and we are gratified to state, on the authority of a gentleman of this city, who has had occasion to test the matter, that they are dis-posed to be just and honorable. He visited the camp of Gen. McCook, in Maury county, in quest of a fugitive, and that officer, in-stead of throwing obstacles in his way, af. forded him every facility for the successful prosecution of his search. That General treated him in the most courteous and gentlemanly manner, as also did General Johnson, and Captain Blake, the Brigade Provost Marshal. Their conduct towards him was, in all respects, that of high-toned gentlemen, desirons of discharg-ing their duties promptly and honorably. It is impossible for the army to prevent slaves from following them; but whenever the fugitives come into the lines of Gen. McCook, they are secured, and a record made of their names and the names of their owners. All the owner has to do is to apply either in person, or through an agent, examine the record, or look at the slaves, and if he finds any that belong to him, take the mans any that belong ito him, take them away.

It gives us a great deal of pleasure to make these statements, faich acquit the Federal army and its officers of conniving at the escape of slaves. Their conduct is having a tendency to make the class of our population—that is, the portion of them who are restlight and inclined to run away—satisfied that they fained get away through the instrumentality of the army, and that they had better remain at home.

A RICH AFFAIR-A MAN DRAWS ON A CITY FIRM FOR A WIFE .- A few days since a respectable business firm on Water street received a letter from a customer near Youngstown, inclosing an order for-a wife! The oustomer was rich, middle-aged, Datchman and a widower. He said he wanted a wife right off, and had no time to look up one for himself, but should be in town in the course of a day or two to marry the woman which he depended on his oity friends to have ready for him.

Such an order rather took the merchants abaok, but the man was too good a customer to disoblige. As they had no supply of the article on hand, for sale, one of the firm went out to hunt it up, and at an Intelli-gence Office got track of a girl who could speak German and English, was telerably good looking, and very much wanted to find a hasband. A bargain was struck. The Dutchman came in yesterday, found the article ready for him, approved of it, got married, and took his ourions purchase home with him.

We did not learn whether the firm charged a special fee or a per centage commission on the market value of the article. Cteveland (0) Herald.

Sewing Machine! Warranted the Best in the Market.

ELIAS HOW JR., & S. H. ROPER'S COMBINED PATENTS. irright-Line Movements, Original Transverse Shwille, and Periphery Clamp Feed-Wheel. MESE SEWING MACHINES COMBINE THE I must recent improvements, are nearly noiseless when in operation, run with the greatest case and rapidity, and are better adapted for general purposes and family use than any other. They are not liable to get out of order, are exceedingly simple, and are made expressly fer real practical utility; they do every variety of sawing, from the finest woven tissue to the heaviest woolen goods, both tailoring and fine leather work. Any person may learn to operate them in a very short times. The great difficulty with all other old-style Machin The great difficulty with all other old-style Machines is too much complication, requiring so much constant adjustment, and such an amount of mechanical skill and ingenuity to use them to advantage, as to render them of little comparative value.

But the Sewing Machines manufactured by Greenan & True are not liable to these objections, as any person, on even a moment's examination, will readily discover. They will do more and better work than any other Machina ever offered to the public, making the most beautiful lock-stitch, alike on both sides. Send for an of-hand specimen of sewing upon any material you wish, and you will then see how it is done.
